POLICE TO FOIL SABOTAGE PLANS

Barbed Wire Stockade for Arrested Radicals in Griffith Park

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—One hundred additional police officers were sent to Los Angeles harbor today by Chief of Police L. D. Oaks for emergency duty should the I. W. W. in the longshoremen's strike along the waterfront attempt to put into effect their threatened campaign of sabotage following the roundup late yesterday of 500 alleged radicals.

All available speed was being made today in the erection of a barbed wire stockade in Griffith park, in which all the arrested strikers and radicals will be held. Reports that "Big Rosy" and a gang of "phosphorus men" have reached the harbor from the east to launch a crusade of destruction among the docks caused the police to redouble their alertness and be ready for any emergency.

FLOOD, FIRE AND STORM SWEEP FAMOUS RESORT CITY INTO DESOLATION

Confusion Is Intense and Badly Handicaps Rescue Work; Buildings, Motor Cars and Human Being Mixed Amid Debris

A SHAKY, intermittently failing telegraph wire from Memphis, Tenn., was all that linked the rest of the world today to Hot Springs, Ark., victim of one of the greatest floods, fires and storms of a decade. It established this to be the situation in the famous resort city.

The nearly frantic population was as ignorant long after dawn of the extent of the loss of life and damage and it was in the midst of a hideous night when the disaster was at its height. To the seventeen lives known to have been lost, it is believed certain there will be added many more when the flood torrents recede fully.

Confusion was still of such intensity as to prevent any concentrated rescue work. Fire, which already has gobbled up millions of dollars' worth of property, still is the greatest peril because of lack of organization. Thus far it has destroyed the Marquette hotel, the Rosenthal shoe store, the Dixie cafe and the buildings of the Grand Rapids Furniture Company, the American Express Company and the Oliver Finnie Company, all in the business district.

The furious flood of turbulent water that roared through the streets, sweeping away buildings, motor cars and even human beings, is beginning to recede. It is revealing tumbled-down houses and debris almost beyond imagination.

NEW LIGHTS FOR SCHOOL GROUNDS

Evening Baseball Schedule Will Be Drawn Up for Local Teams

The athletic field of the High School grounds is now well lighted with 8 huge lights. An opportunity is presented for evening baseball and enthusiasts in that popular sport will take advantage of it tomorrow, Wednesday, night, May 16, at 7 o'clock.

All groups interested in forming teams are invited to come to the High School grounds on Wednesday night at 7. Preliminary practices will be held and a schedule worked out within the next few days. There is ample space for all who wish to play and an opportunity for those taking the exercise to use the showers in the High school building after the events.

FLOODS AND FLAMES RAVAGE ARKANSAS CITY

CHICAGO, May 15.—Hot Springs, Ark., a city of 15,000 residents and with a large tourist population, today is a scene of indescribable confusion with fire consuming its buildings and flood waters racing through its streets.

Wire communication with the stricken city is entirely cut off and only fragmentary reports of the disaster could be gathered early today by International News Service over shaky wires to Oklahoma and Tennessee towns. Many lives are reported to have been lost and damage is appalling.

At dawn the St. Louis headquarters of the American Red Cross received the following message from the Red Cross representative in Hot Springs: "Terrible flood and fire. Damage indescribable. Will need immediate assistance."

DEPOT CONFERENCE

The exact location of the new Southern Pacific station will be discussed at a conference this afternoon between officials of the railroad company and the city administration. City Manager W. H. Reeves favors a site at the end of Cerritos street midway between Los Feliz road and Brand boulevard. A proposition is to be made that the railroad company should dedicate a street through its property from Brand boulevard to Los Feliz road.

Social Events

Shower Hostess
Miss Dorothy Carmack of 111 South Central avenue, entertained Saturday evening with a china shower, complimenting Miss Margaret Crawford, a popular bride-to-be.

Miss Crawford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford of 809 South Central avenue and will become the bride of Roy Selover on June 11.

The rooms were decorated in yellow and light green, Spanish broom, corn flowers and ferns being artistically used. Each guest was presented with a tiny bag of rice tied with yellow ribbons and on which were fastened cards upon which were written "For use on June 11."

During the afternoon Bunko was played which was followed by the presentation to Miss Crawford of a tray full of lovely china gifts.

Later refreshments were served which were fastened on the yellow color scheme.

Those present were, Miss Erma Bradshaw, Miss Lillian Schlick, Miss Catherine Niles, Miss Martha Meyers, Mrs. E. W. Evans, Miss Dorothy Morton, Miss Edna Mootz, Mrs. G. W. Selover, Mrs. Charles S. Talbot, Mrs. Dorothy Patterson, Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. C. R. Carmack, the guest of honor, Miss Margaret Crawford and the hostess, Miss Dorothy Carmack.

Plan Sport Dance
So successful and enjoyable was the late spring dance given last Friday night by the Shakespear Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club in the clubhouse, the section women meeting yesterday morning made tentative plans for a sport dance to be given some time during June.

Bridge, Five Hundred and dancing were the entertaining features of the affair last week and the women in charge were highly complimented by those attending.

The women realized $150 from the affair, providing final payment on the flat silver for the clubhouse, meeting expenses and leaving a small balance in the treasury.

At the meeting yesterday it was decided to re-engage Mrs. Mazie Garrett as teacher, and to lower the dues to one dollar to afford more of the club members an opportunity to belong to the section.

Mothers Guests
The members of the S. O. S. Sunday school class of the Central Christian church entertained their mothers in the class-room Sunday afternoon in observance of Mothers' Day. The affair, which was in charge of the class teacher, Mrs. Alton Smith, included a special program and several other features fitting to the occasion.

The members who took part in the reception were Misses Corinne Heacock, Frances Musser, Alice Musser, Florence Stevens, Hettie Orth, Fern Peters, Lillian Webster, Garnett Peters, Ruth Ryan, Rose Jennings and Bernice Littleton.

At Casa Contenta
Casa Contenta, the artistic home of Dr. and Mrs. Richmann on North Verdugo road, was the scene Sunday of a delightful gathering of seventy-five members of the Los Angeles School of Physical Training. Hiking, games, music by the gymnasium orchestra and singing were features of the day and evening.

The Richmanns' week-end guests were Mrs. Susan Nethery of Redondo, Mr. and Mrs. Will Nethery of Long Beach, Mrs. Stroeble and Miss Fisher of Los Angeles.

Routine Business at Merchants' Meeting
The regular routine business occupied the attention of the Glendale Merchants' association, formerly the Glendale Credit association, at their weekly luncheon in the Citizens' Building yesterday. The usual consideration of the names submitted in the association's reports was taken up and the wider scope of the reorganized body also came in for discussion.

BENEFIT TO AID VIOLINIST, PLAN Music Club to Establish Scholarship Fund to Assist Musicians

Glendadians have become fully convinced during the past few years that the Glendale Music club is one of the most active organizations in local club affairs. Countless Glendale residents have either joined the club or attended programs at various times and all have watched the development of the organization with keen interest.

Of particular interest to club members and friends is the recent establishment of a club scholarship fund, to be used each year in assisting some local musician in further study and development of his talent. This year the club is to have the pleasure of assisting Miss Hazel Linkogel, talented young violinist, who is to go East and participate in a contest for a permanent scholarship.

Foundation for this scholarship fund is to come from a concert benefit program, to be given Thursday night, May 24, in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon club house. Through their interest in the accomplishments of the Glendale Music club, Charles Wakefield Cadman, composer and chairman of the junior activities of the California Music federation; Margaret Messer Morris, vocalist, and Carl Gantvoort, American baritone, will present the program.

Develop Talent
This scholarship fund is not a charitable idea, but is established to assist musicians in developing their talent. There will be no strings attached to the money, but if the student makes good, he may, at some future date, if he so desires, pay back the money in large or small payments, without interest. If he is not able to do so, the club will be satisfied.

In handling the fund a group of trustees will be appointed by the club to investigate and recommend with regard to its use.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the club, announces that tickets for the first scholarship fund benefit, will be 50 cents for juveniles and juniors and 75 cents and $1 for seniors. Juvenile and junior tickets will be on sale at the high and intermediate schools, and the senior tickets at the Shuck Music company, the Glendale Music company, the Chamber of Commerce and other places to be announced later.

Already 100 tickets have been sold and Mrs. Jones states that she is anticipating a crowded auditorium.

Music club board members met yesterday afternoon and, in addition to planning for the scholarship fund, other matters were taken up.

Will Hold Dinner
The club's annual dinner will be held Friday night, June 29 at the Tuesday Afternoon club. There will be special speakers, music, the awarding of the membership trophy and the election of officers.

It was decided that each member of the executive board should serve as chairman of a standing membership committee for the pre-summer membership drive. Each chairman is to have four assistants. It is the plan to sell as many tickets as there are seats in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse auditorium. Present members of the club are to be given first chance to buy tickets for the season.

A membership contest will be held, with all but members of the board eligible to compete. The

Seek Seattle Broker On Swindling Charge

SEATTLE, May 15.—A coast-wide search is being conducted today for H. J. Frazer, head of a brokerage firm bearing his name, who is said to have swindled more than 100 investors out of $50,000 by fake stock deals.

He is said to have fled with his wife a few hours before deputy sheriffs arrived at his elaborate offices with a warrant for his arrest.

According to the prosecuting attorney's office, Frazer accepted cash, stocks, bonds and other negotiable paper from his clients for investment. In nearly all instances, the prosecutor asserts, he sold the securities and pocketed the proceeds.

Numbered among his victims are several local school teachers who alone have been swindled out of several thousand dollars by Frazer's operations, the prosecutor declared.

U. S.-Canadian Army Pact Is Modernized

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A modernized version of the Rush-Bagot treaty by which the United States and Canada agree to limit military and naval armament along the border, has been communicated to the Ottawa government for its consideration, it was announced at the state department today.

person selling the most tickets over five will receive the silver trophy cup.

CHAUTAUQUA IS DRAWING CROWD

Junior Circus and Play Today's Program in B Auditorium

The 1923 Chautauqua is attracting good crowds to the at the corner of Orange and yard streets. Yesterday afternoon the audience was entertained with a snappy lecture by Beatrice Stuart Weller, treated with cartoons. Then, night Dr. Ng Poon Chew, Chinese statesman, gave a masterful discussion of "China and the Peace of the Pacific."

This afternoon the club were entertained with the directed by Edna Belle Kuhl. Tonight Miss Windus will play, "Six-Cylinder Love," assisted by Leslie Taylor, violinist and Guy Mariner, pianist.

On Wednesday afternoon Princess Te Ata came to give Indian songs, legends, and interpretative dance native costume.

FLOOD AND FLAME HIT HOT SPRINGS

Red Cross Rushes Aid to Stricken People; Great Property Damage

Baxter, Jr., the St. Louis Red Cross representative. Preparations were being made to start Henry Baker, division director of relief, to Hot Springs, and search was being made for an airplane to carry him.

What the loss of life may be from the rushing waters is problematical. It may run into large figures or it may be very small. Scores of automobiles are known to have been caught in Central avenue, one of the principal business streets of the city, when the flood was at its height.

The flood started just before dusk yesterday when a heavy storm struck the town and quickly became a cloudburst. Terrific electrical displays accompanied it.

The full force of the storm struck the mountains to the north and continued most of the night. The water, accumulating too fast to pass to the lower levels with natural speed, quickly filled streams, which, overflowing, turned their torrents into Hot Springs.

Rushing from Whittington park and into Central avenue the depth of the flood grew until, in places, it was said to have reached nine feet. Pedestrians were swept from their feet and into the surging maelstrom.

Seventeen Dead in Hot Springs Disaster

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—Seventeen persons are known to have been killed and a large number of others are missing at Hot Springs, Ark., following the flood and fires there early today, according to a telegram to William M. Baxter, Jr., director here for the American Red Cross. The telegram said search for additional dead is being pushed forward rapidly.

At the general offices of the Missouri Pacific railway here early today word was received from a dispatcher at Hot Springs that the fire was believed to have been brought under control, but the message was so fragmentary and indefinite that it was not accepted as entirely authentic.

The operator at Hot Springs confirmed earlier word to the Red Cross that 17 persons were known to have been killed and said many more must have lost their lives. Arrangements are being made to send Henry Baker as a representative of the Red Cross from St. Louis on a train which will reach the Arkansas resort tonight. Earlier plans to man an aeroplane were abandoned.

Autos Are Halted by Ruined Bridges, Roads

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 15.—Efforts to communicate with Hot Springs, Ark., by land failed today when automobiles sent toward the flooded city from here were compelled to turn back. All bridges in the neighborhood of Hot Springs either are down or impassable, the motorists reported. A message from Little Rock said attempts were being made to despatch an airplane from there. Efforts also were being made to communicate by wireless.

City Streets Swept By Four-Foot Torrent

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 15.—The western section of Little Rock was swept by a terrific gale last night followed by the worst cloudburst this city has ever known.

The storm struck suddenly in the suburbs, leaving many wrecked homes and hundreds of uprooted trees in its wake. So far as known there were no casualties.

The business district of the city was deluged. Water roared down the streets like mountain torrents carrying wooden blocks, planks, sign boards and other debris into the Arkansas river. The storm sewers soon were overloaded and the water rushed along the surface, in some places three and four feet deep. Many stores were flooded, causing thousands of dollars' damage.

Witnesses Summoned Give False Addresses

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 15.—Coroner Eli Mix is having difficulty in inquiries into sudden deaths here because witnesses give fictitious names. When a woman was killed by a trolley car on a busy street recently police and trolley workers got names and addresses of a dozen people and when police started to serve summonses on them to appear at the inquest the addresses were vacant lots or unoccupied structures.

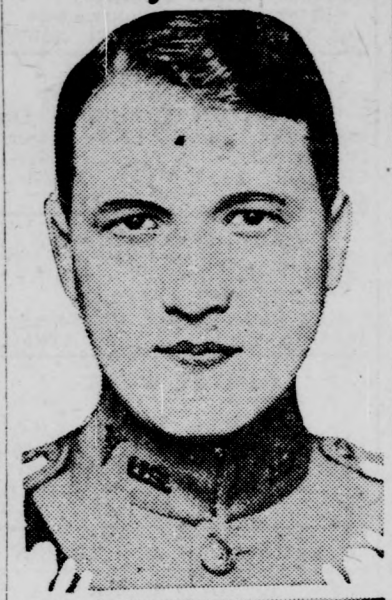

CHILDREN BITTEN

Two local children yesterday were bitten by dogs. They were John McCurdy, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo McCurdy of 1636 Gardena avenue, and Margaret Jane Helfrich, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Helfrich of 515 East Lexington Drive. The little girl, who had on half hose, was severely bitten just below the right knee.

ENTITLED TO MONEY

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The interstate commerce commission has certified to the secretary of the treasury that the Southern Pacific railroad is entitled to $4,235,301 as a final payment on claims growing out of war time federal control.

Army Officer Gets Many War Medals

Major E. E. Hume, at present attached to the Medical Corps of the United States army, has just been awarded his twenty-eighth war medal, the Distinguished Service medal, for meritorious work in France. He has been decorated by England, France, Italy, Greece, Serbia, Poland, Rumania and other European nations.

SERVICE TRANSFERS

Transfer of light and water service has been requested by the following residents, and orders are now on file in the public service department of the city hall: Jack Shaw, 211 East Lomita avenue, 721 East Broadway; J. H. Kline, 315 North Louise street, 632 Alexander street; A. K. Jenkins, 524 West Wilson avenue, 612 North Columbus avenue; F. W. Fox, 127 West Laurel street, 114 1/2 East Lexington drive; Fred L. SMASHED LOVE TROTH IS COSTLY

Young Men Who Objected To Affiance's Bad Temper Must Pay Costs

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
For International News Service.
LONDON, May 15.—In England at any rate, it does not pay to break off an engagement to marry because the young woman in the case has a short temper or does not get on well with her prospective mother-in-law.

It cost Cecil Henry Rhodes, a young Englishman $250 to find this out. The cost represented the amount of damages awarded Miss Dorothy Betteridge, who sued Rhodes for breach of promise. The case drew from Justice Rigby Swift, the presiding judge, some piquant phrases with reference to lovers and the law.

Rhodes defended the breaking of his engagement to Miss Betteridge by charging that her bad temper was sufficient cause for his act. He also set up the defense that Miss Betteridge had been unable to get along with his mother. Justice Swift and the jury swept these arguments into the discard. "Nobody Perfect"

"It is not enough," said Justice Swift, "for Rhodes to show that Miss Betteridge did not come up to his expectations in some respects. Nobody who is engaged to be married ever does come up to expectations. Love is proverbially blind. "Everybody on the other side of thirty starts with the idea that his lady is perfect and without flaw and that no woman, since Eve at any rate, has ever been created anything like her. No doubt members of the jury know what it is to have courted an angel and found out afterward that she was a mere human woman like the rest. Everybody knows that other men's wives are sometimes fiends for temper."

"Many Have Temper
"The fact that a woman has a temper does not render her unfit for matrimony or half the population of the world never would have been born. Half the wives in the world are women who can display a good deal of temper at times."

Counsel for Rhodes upheld the right of a man to break an engagement. Judge Swift said that an engagement was a contract, the same as any commercial agreement, and must be so regarded by the law.

"Supposing," Justice Swift went on, "that a man says, 'I like a woman of mild, docile character who will acknowledge me as lord and master and bow down to my every wish, and I am engaged to a woman who has a mind of her own and wishes herself to be lord and master and that I should bow down to her wishes.' Why should the defendant say, 'She has such a temper I will not marry her, though she is fit to marry 999 men out of a thousand?'"

Not Unfit to Wed
"Apparently Mr. Rhodes said he could not marry for fear his mother-in-law would have $50 of his. Was Miss Betteridge to smile angelically and say, 'It is all right, dear. I am ready to put off the wedding for as long as your mother wishes to keep the $50.'"

"Miss Betteridge did not say that. When she said something else he broke off the engagement. I shall ask the jury whether they are satisfied that the plaintiff, by reason of her bad temper, was unfit for matrimony generally?"

The jury did not find that Miss Betteridge had such a temper that she could not be a good wife, and its finding, together with the observations of Justice Swift, has added another interesting chapter to English jurisprudence.

FINDS MOON NOT SO FAR DISTANT

Only 80 Days by Air, Figures French Scientist; Is in Range of Fast Bullet

BOURGUES, France, May 15.—Prospective tourists to the moon may now make their plans. Abbe Thomas Bourqueux, observatory, has just discovered, after many observations, that the moon is really a suburb of the earth. Instead of being 384,400 kilometers away, Abbe Moreux avers, the trip to the moon is thus shortened by approximately seventy five miles.

An aviator, flying at an average speed of 125 miles an hour and never stopping, could reach the moon in eighty days of flying, Abbe Moreux says. Furthermore, a projectile fired into the air at an initial velocity of eight miles per second never will return to the earth and, if projected in just the right direction, may reach the moon.

THREE DROWNED

PORTLAND, Ore., May 15.—Harbor police yesterday recovered the body of Rose Hendricks, 18, one of three young persons drowned in the Willamette river in week-end canoe upset. Her escort, Lloyd Cone, was also drowned when they endeavored to ride swells from a passing excursion boat. Search is being conducted for the body of Joseph Wendell, 15, victim of another canoe accident.

NET REVENUE OF S. P. $68,854,713

1922 Report Shows Income Is Biggest Since Record Year of 1917

NEW YORK, May 15.—The net revenue from the rail and water lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad company for the year 1922 exceeded that of any since the record year in 1917. It was announced in the thirty-ninth annual report, just made public.

A reduction in expenses totaling $16,776,000 was effected during the year as compared with those of 1921, through changes in wage rates and lower costs of materials. This saving, the report says, was passed on to the public, the report points out, through reduction in freight rates that caused a loss of revenue of $16,350,000. The net revenue from railway operations of the company for the year totaled $68,854,713, the report stated, or $4,514,954 less than the 1917 record year. Taxes for the year amounted to $18,859,356.

STOCKS-MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 15.—The stock market closed heavy today. Selling was especially heavy in Studebaker, it dropping to a new low for this year at 10 3/4, a net loss of about 4 points. U. S. Steel receded 1 1/2 points to 97 1/2 and Baldwin nearly 2 points at 126 1/2. California Pete at 94 1/2, showed a gain of about 1 point. Copper stocks held steady. Railroad stocks also moved lower with Canadian Pacific losing 2 1/2 points at 153. Some short covering in the late trading caused a moderate rally, but prices closed lower than they were yesterday's final figures.

Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady. Total stock sales today 655,400 shares; bonds $8,060,000.

In Grain Markets
CHICAGO, May 15.—Bullish foreign news coupled with a more optimistic domestic outlook, gave strength to the grain market today and all prices were up at the close. Wheat closed unchanged to 1/4 higher. Corn finished 1/4 to 1/2 higher. Oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher. Provisions moved forward on stronger hog prices and was influenced by the bullish grain market. Lard gained seven to fifteen cents and ribs were up a nickel to 15c.

NOT AVERSE TO WED, CO-EDS SAY

Syracuse College Girls Not In School Looking for Educated Husbands

By CHESTER B. BAHN
For International News Service
SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 15.—Co-eds do not come to Syracuse University solely to find intellectual husbands, but they are not averse to getting married, according to a verdict rendered recently by a student jury. Eight women and four men made the decision.

They take issue with the president of Bryn Mawr, who says "marriage is the college girl's aim," but admit the outsider might easily be led to the conclusion, without knowing the pulsebeats of the Hill co-eds.

"Girls come to college to gain the superiority due them, and not to learn how to get married by studying the square root of a dissected angle," is the decision of Miss Ethel Bedell, of the physical education course in Teachers' College.

Natural Objective

Miss Mabel Wilson, junior in Liberal Arts, says: "The only idea for a girl to have is marriage as an objective, for it is the only way she'll be happy, but she doesn't come to college to develop that idea."

"I can't imagine myself being an old maid, with three or four cats and a parrot. The idea of being a spinster doesn't appeal to any girl. It is absolutely true that any really normal girl wants to get married," according to Miss Irene M. Edmonds, 18, freshman in Fine Arts.

"If a girl wants to get married she doesn't go to college four years. Her ambition is greater than that of becoming a good cook by the chemical and scientific route."

A girl's ultimate aim may be marriage, but while she's in college she doesn't think of it," says Miss Carrie Rivoli, 17, and pretty, freshman in business administration. She was foreman of the jury.

Not Seeking 'Man'

"If I came to college to get married I wouldn't be taking a seven-year course in medicine," is the snappy verdict of Miss Irene Engst, pre-medical junior in liberal arts.

College men, who never fail to acknowledge their ideal of superiority to the weaker sex, seem to testify differently. "The best type of men attend colleges all over the world. It is only natural for the women to seek that kind, therefore they go to college as the best place to form suitable marriages," says Harry J. Cool, freshman in business administration.

"Yes, the women go through college, but college doesn't go through them. They come for good times and good men," says Ralph Walker, sophomore in college of engineering.

"Only the abnormal woman whose talents supersede her maternal instinct comes to college to study. The normal woman's niche in life is that of wife and mother, even as the man's position is that of husband and provider," offers I. Nutting, psychology student and sophomore in business administration.

"Co-eds come to college to dance and spend the fellows' money. They're willing to marry after four years of good times, though," Albert Roberts, junior in forestry said.

BAGS HUGE EAGLE

LEBANON, Ind., May 15.—A golden eagle, 7 feet 4 inches across the outstretched wings and 33 inches from beak to tail, was shot by Donald Crawford on the Frank McBroder farm, near here.

Swiss federal railway lines are about 1,000 miles long.

DETAILS ADD TO BEAUTY OF HOME

Plumbing System Important To Proper Completion of Building

Fixtures are an important part of any plumbing system and should be carefully selected.

Probably the most satisfactory way to make the selection is to visit the show rooms of any reputable plumbing supply house. There you will find, not only the actual fixtures set up in working order, but also men thoroughly familiar with the details of that part of the system and anxious to give you the benefit of their knowledge.

Briefly discussing fixtures, the following points should be borne in mind:

The bathtub may be of porcelain or enameled iron, but in either case should be of the built-in pattern.

The leg bathtub has only one advantage, namely, lower cost, but presents a problem to the housewife in cleaning under and around it.

Overflow for Tubs

Tubs should have standing waste and overflow of waste of pop-up type, either being satisfactory and depending on personal preference.

The exposed metal work should be of brass and heavily nickel-plated.

Showers of the rain-head type in end walls over tubs are becoming popular and should be equipped with faucet handles, hot and cold, in accessible positions and without the spray area.

The lavatories or wash basins should be preferably of vitreous china, but lavatories are made in porcelain and enameled iron.

Whether or not lavatories should be supported from walls on concealed brackets or on floor pedestals will have to be decided by the owner of the house to be built.

All these fixtures should have a back at least six inches high and integral with the basin if fixture is set against the wall.

Should Mark Faucets

Pop-up wastes are suitable as well as integral soap dishes. Faucets should have in top china disks plainly marked "hot" and "cold."

The bodies of these faucets should be solid brass, heavily nickel plated, and should have easily renewable washer seats.

The kitchen sink is within the domain, particularly of the housewife, and she will have her personal preference, but the tendency is rightly toward the porcelain sink on pedestal legs with an integral back and drain boards.

The rim of the sink should be set about thirty-six inches above the floor. The old custom of setting a sink thirty inches high is unduly tiring as practically all persons have to stoop to use a fixture at that height.

AIRPLANES HUNT BOOZE RUNNERS

End of Lawlessness Forecast By N. Y. Dry Officer in Use of Air Fleet

By JOHN L. SPIVAK
For International News Service

NEW YORK, May 15.—Mile-a-minute seaplanes to chase rum-runners off the Atlantic coast is the next step in the fight to enforce prohibition.

The use of seaplanes as auxiliaries to the Coast Guard Service will be urged of the federal government by Palmer Canfield, prohibition director for the state of New York, in his fight on "Rum Row."

Decision to use fast seaplanes in warring on rum-runners was reached by Canfield after a flight over the now notorious smuggling fleet. On his return Canfield said:

Beginning of End

"The beginning of the end of rum-running and smuggling along the coast is in sight. There has been a decrease in the number of vessels along the New York and New Jersey shores, and in a few months Nassau, St. Pierre and Miquelon will be forgotten words in the vocabularies of the local bootleggers."

"As a result of my investigation I shall recommend the use of mile-a-minute seaplanes. There is ample room for them at Miller Field, Staten Island. With this as a base we shall be able constantly to watch incoming vessels."

"An attempt to land liquor would result in the prompt summoning of coast guard steamers, and the lawlessness would be stopped at once."

Brigands Squabble Over Freeing Captives

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Disagreement among the bandit chiefs safe in their stronghold beyond Lincheng with their foreign prisoners, is delaying the liberation of the captives, Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister in Peking, cabled the state department late Monday.

HIT WITH HAMMER

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—Declared to have struck his co-worker with a hammer during a bitter argument, Warner Potter, 27, a carpenter, was held at the Hollywood police station today facing a probable charge of murder, while A. A. Beaton, his alleged victim, was in a dying condition at the receiving hospital.

CHINESE BANDIT GANG FREE BOYS

ns of U. S. Army Officers Tell Thrilling Story of Experiences

By ERIC VON SALZMANN
International News Service.
PEKING, May 15.—Wearing coolie clothes over their pa-mas and coarse coolie shoes, 17-year-old Roland Pinger and 15-year-old Robert Allen, were seized and later released by Chinese bandits, arrested here to join their frantic thiers.
They have had more adventure in the last Saturday than falls to lot of millions of normal boys.
After being liberated by the bandits they were put on a train for Luchow and sent to Tien Tsin.
The boys were accompanied from bandit stronghold by a Chinese who spoke English. He went with them all the way to Tien Tsin.
The boys' faces were burned by the sun, and their feet were bleeding, but otherwise they suffered no ill effects.
Tom Sawyer never had anything on us," said Robert Allen, had just finished a hearty meal and was full and happy. He laughed.
"We were well treated.
We had nothing but eggs. All day while we were with the bandits we had hard-boiled eggs, a kind of dough cakes and
but they were good to us.
It did not harm us at all. We the chief we could not pay money for we did not have and that we wanted to go to mothers. The chief looked and said, 'Oh, all right,' and let us go."
The boys said the first night
the raid all were compelled to march at top speed towards mountains. They rested in a village and the bandits some donkeys. They gave beasts to the women and men to ride on. Miss Minnie Hadden was thrown from her horse and was left lying in the dust.
The bandits said they were in much of a hurry to stop.
On Monday the soldiers
dawned and attacked the bandit stronghold. Then followed late periods of fighting, and resting. Most of the bandits were under cover of darkness.
The boys said there were several hundred bandits, directed by leaders.
Robert and Roland said they their mothers' wedding rings bracelets. "Saw father's s, too," said Robert.
The women except a Mexican were released. The Mexican has a very low opinion of the brigands.
The boys have traveled through Spain

Writ Rescues Girl From Deportation

Esther Kaplan, who arrived in New York in 1914, was taken by federal authorities to Ellis Island immigration station, New York harbor, to be deported to Russia on the grounds that she was of inferior mentality. Her mother and father were permitted to remain in America, and the girl faced life, without friends, in Europe. Congressman Samuel Dickstein interested himself in the case and secured a writ of habeas corpus from United States Judge Julian Mack, arriving with it just before the girl was to have been placed on the liner Bayern for deportation. Her mother, Mrs. Dora Kaplan, fainted from joy.

FRENCH LACK CONSULS

PARIS, May 15.—"France's consular representation in the United States is a mere burlesque
but in Canada it is even worse," said Louis Thomas on his return from America. "Apparently the French government since 1857 has not learned that Canada has a capital of its own," said Thomas.
"for France is the only nation not represented, there."
and Mexico and I must say that Chinese bandits are worse than those of any other country," she said. She is Mrs. M. Veree of Guadalajara. The bandits tried to force her to carry a white flag down the mountainside to the commander of the soldiers while the firing was in progress, but she refused to leave her husband.
"I was not afraid," the woman explained to a companion. "Why these fellows could not hit anything."
It was reported that Major Pinger, father of Roland, was wounded, but this was not true.
G. D. Musso, an Italian who was captured by the bandits, became ill and was left under guard in a village.

PICK JUDGES TO SELECT DESIGNS

Three Architects Chosen to Pass Judgment on Plans Submitted

A jury composed of David C.
Allison, chairman, Frank J. Hudson and Pierpont Davis, to decide the $300 cash prize architectural contest given by Security Housing Corporation at Glendale Industrial Exposition, has been selected by Sumner P. Hunt, president of the Southern California chapter of the American Institute of Architects, which organization has sanctioned this contest.
Those selected to serve are declared to be among the best known of Los Angeles architects, and the fact that they are willing to serve in this capacity is indicative of the interest such men have in better small house planning.
The best designs will be selected and prizes awarded Monday night, May 28, at the Security Housing Corporation booth at the Glendale Industrial Exposition.
The Architects' Club of Los Angeles is also sponsoring this contest, and, from the interest shown, home builders of Glendale should have a good opportunity to look over some very fine designs of five-room houses.
All designs submitted will remain on exhibition during the exposition.

Will Exhume Bodies In Poisoning Probe

NEWARK, N. J., May 15.—
While Mrs. John Creighton and her husband were held without bail today, charged with the poisoning of Charles Raymond Avery, the woman's eighteen-year-old brother, Prosecutor John O. Bigelow expected to obtain permission to exhume the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Creighton, parents of John Creighton.
Young Avery, it is alleged,
died April 20, after a ten-day illness, marked by recurrent nausea, and the state contends his death was due to arsenic poisoning.
Creighton and his wife pleaded not guilty to the charge and were held for trial June 18.
Avery's death was ascribed to heart disease, but anonymous letters to the prosecutor suggested another cause of death.
Pathological examination of his vital organs showed traces of arsenic poisoning, Bigelow said.

Famous Clipper Ship Goes Up in Flames

SEATTLE, May 15.—The "Glory of the Seas" is in ashes today, while Andrew Lund, her former master, is in tears.
In fancy, Andrew Lund, now a common seaman on ships making Seattle port, stands again on the deck of the "Glory of the Seas," commander of the finest and fastest clipper ship ever built by the famous old Yankee, Donald Mc-Kay, in East Boston in 1869.
In fancy, Andrew Lund and the "Glory of the Seas" are again making that record-breaking trip from Havre, France, around the Horn to San Francisco in ninety days.
C. G. Tackaberry, who bought the famous old clipper for junk last fall, applied the torch to the beached vessel at Endolyn beach Sunday morning. He had been unsuccessful in attempts to sell the ship to those interested in preserving the vessel for museum purposes.

DEFINING THINGS

Teacher: "Now, children, we will define things pertaining to the table. Jack, what is a napkin?"
Small boy: "It's a little sleep
after eating."
Teacher (amazed): "What do you mean?"
Small boy: "Why, if manikin is a little man, why isn't napkin a little nap?"

GLENDALE WOMEN AT P.-T. A. MEETING

Delegates Bear Important Part in Convention at Stockton

There were five prominent Glendale Parent-Teacher association workers included in the company of 674 women who met last week at Stockton for the annual Parent-Teacher association convention.
That the name of Glendale was brought before the gathering is chairman of the resolutions committee and by the parts the other Glendale women took in the meetings.

Mrs. White's position was a very responsible and exacting one and her efficiency was shown in the unanimous adoption of the resolution she and her committee members formulated.

Among the ten resolutions passed by the convention the more important ones were: one introduced by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of Glendale, urging that a law be passed to require that marriage banns be published ten days before the marriage takes place; another protesting against glaring headlines, featuring crime, and another expressing respect for the American flag, and that everyone should stand at attention with the right hand over the heart when the flag passes by.

Give Demonstration
The attention of the whole convention was held by the demonstration of the Glendale Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, supervised by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, with Mrs. H. V. Henry as leader, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Moore and Mrs. John Robert White.

One of the important actions of the convention was the incorporation of the state Parent-Teacher association, with a business secretary to manage all business matters.
The convention delegates enjoyed a trip to Lodi, some fifteen miles from Stockton. On that trip Mrs. White, of the Glendale delegation, was honored guest at the mayor's table at a luncheon at the Methodist church.

The 1924 convention will be held in Pasadena.

The Artist in Him

Today's Short Story
Ad Schuchman

Caleb Sands had everything to make him happy except neighbors and friends, and, as the years went by, he learned to regard these as unnecessary. He owned a cabin, a garden, a horse and a cow, and had enough money put by to secure him from want. Since he had come to this forsaken place—and the story of his coming is quite apart from this—he had worked hard to forget the past. Now he was ready to admit the need of rest. Most of all he desired amusement, a hobby to occupy his time.

One day in the cliff behind his claim Caleb noticed a block of the white rock which had broken along the regular planes of strata and lay apart from the rest.

"It is almost like marble," the old man said, and he felt within him a longing which had been his since youth. After the exercise of all of his ingenuity and the muscles of his horse, Caleb dragged the rock to his home and established it upright in the one large room. He had determined that, so long as there were no critics around to poke fun, he would be a sculptor. Each day the old man regarded the large rock to envision in it the form he would like to carve.

"It will take time," Caleb said, "and before I start I must know exactly what it is to be like, how it is to balance, and just how it is to fit in this block."

It was thus the form of a beautiful girl was born in the brain of the old man. He could see it poised in the rugged rock which set in his cabin, knew just where the tips of the outstretched fingers would be, where the top of the high-flung head must come, and what rock must be chipped away before his statue could be revealed to the world.

"If I think it over carefully, give it enough time so there cannot be a mistake," said Caleb, "I will make this statue that I can see with my mind." He reasoned that each day he would determine upon a small part of the stone which should be removed and remove it. In time he would have all the superfluous rock chipped away, and the statue, his dream statue, would remain.

Caleb Sands spent hours before the block of stone. One mistake would ruin his work. Before he removed so much as a tiny fragment he must weigh the removal against the pose of the statue and the necessity for balance. Always he must bear in mind the position of the girl who was to emerge from the stone. As he gazed at the rock, Caleb pictured the girl. He fastened her in his mind and in the great stone, and then, ever so carefully and one chip a day, he removed pieces which were beyond the outline of the figure.

Winter winds swept around the cabin, the spring sent the brook rushing by the door, and then the hot sun, which is generous to mountain valleys, beat upon his roof. Caleb worked and looked long at the result of his labors. There came a day when he was afraid to attack the stone with his chisel.

"And I have always dreamed of being a sculptor," the old man mused, a wondering light of ecstasy on his face. "There she stands, just as I pictured her, a Diana poised for flight!"

Caleb felt tired, now that the task was done, tired and happy. He placed the lamp beside the statue and sat up late, gazing upon the figure which was there for him. In the morning the lamp was still burning. Then the oil burned out, and a day later, men found the old man's body.

In the room was a shapeless block of stone surrounded by small chips. Those who found the old man's body looked at it and wondered what he had been trying to fashion.

DAILY FASHION HINT

Prepared Especially for The Glendale Evening News

Supplies a Dainty Need
When a sudden ring of the door-bell announces an unexpected visitor and the household tasks are yet unfinished, an embroidered apron of unbleached muslin hurriedly slipped on gives one a comforting appearance of readiness. Other materials than muslin, of course, may be used for the apron, but the embroidery insists upon being included, whatever the fabric. Medium size requires 1 yard 32- or 36-inch material.

Pictorial Review Apron No. 1311. Sizes, 36 to 44 inches bust. Price, 30 cents. Embroidery No. 12744, blue or yellow, 20 cents.

A Carefully Selected Fashion
The dashing simplicity of this semi-formal frock is equalled only by the colors preferred by women who select the style. It may be carried out in wool, cotton or flat crepe, and trimmed either with soutache Georgette or one of the Oriental figured materials. Chinese red, Lanvin green, sorrel and the beiges are the smart colors for such a costume. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch plain and 1 yard 40-inch figured material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1446. Sizes, 34 to 44 inches bust, and 16 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents.

BEAUTY CHATS

by EDNA KENT FORBES

ANSWERED LETTERS
Mrs. M. R.—The headaches you mention could be attributed to nervous exhaustion, and that too would cause this itching sensation of the scalp. The hair tonic and also a daily scalp massage will help much, but you are in need of more than this and should consult your doctor. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for the formula on care of the hair and scalp.

W. E. E.—Send a stamped, addressed envelope to cover mailing cost of information concerning the book that you need.

Mabel L.—The reason why cocoa butter should not be used on the face is because it is a very heavy oil which, if not entirely absorbed, will remain in the pores and attract soil. A condition like this will sometimes encourage the growth of superfluous hair. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for mailing the formulas you desire.

Lenore—Following an illness such as scarlet fever the hair is dead and should drop out; but that is no calamity, for it shows that you are recovering and new hair will grow in. You will find almost a similar condition with your skin. Help each condition along by massaging the scalp every day, including with this a good tonic three times each week, and feed the body tissues with a nourishing skin food. If you need formulas for either of these I will be glad to mail them to you on receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

Bob E.—Your extra weight of thirty pounds may be right under the circumstances, but if you are having your doctor observe your condition he will advise you concerning your diet.

Unhappy Girl—Have bandeaux put in the crowns of your hats until your hair grows out again to hold them in place.

June L. M.—At nineteen, five feet three and a half inches, your weight is normal at 115 pounds. The spring tonic made from flour of sulphur and molasses is not fattening.

Discouraged—In an answer to "Mabel L." I have given the reason why cocoa butter should not be used on exposed parts of the body, but you can nourish the skin and get rid of these lines around the throat if you massage with a cream made from vegetable oils, or use the oil if you cannot be sure of your cream. At twenty years of age lines only indicate there is need to build up, so possibly you should have a tonic or a relaxation from your work. The juice from cucumbers or lemons makes good skin bleaches.

Mrs. L. P. A.—These heat flashes are often experienced by women in middle life. You can relieve the condition which causes them if you eat less meat and drink plenty of water; in fact, simplify your whole diet by reducing the amount of heating foods and substituting for them nuts, vegetables that are not too starchy, and fruit.

Myrtle O.—With light golden hair and brown eyes you can wear almost all colors. The red that blondes are supposed to avoid is the scarlet shade, but it depends upon the blonde. The blondes who cannot wear this shade are those with ashen hair and pale or sallow skins.

Tomorrow—The Upper Arm.

HOW TO CHOOSE A CONFIDANTE
A man in whom many people seem to like to confide, told me this illuminating little story the other day:

"Another man opened up his heart to me one night when we were working together and told me a whole lot of things. He wasn't the kind of man who usually does get confidential, and right in the middle of it he stopped and said: 'Damn it all, I know I ought not to be telling you this. But in all the years I've known you, you've never yet told me anything that anyone else told you—I guess that's safeguard enough.'"

His Best Compliment
"I never had a compliment," said he, "that pleased me more and never one that I had occasion to remember often when the temptation not to deserve it came to me."

"Then you do find it a temptation sometimes?" I asked, for he has the reputation of being exceedingly dignified.

"Was there ever anyone who didn't?" he countered. "When you know things that would make people's eyes stick out, isn't it always a temptation to make them stick? Of course, you don't do it, but—"

better little unit all their own, why don't they come forward with it? If it passes scientific tests we will adopt it.

Now enough on the slander of calories. Don't be discouraged when you read misleading statements about them. Those of you who are reducing and gaining, continue counting just as before, being sure to include 250-350 calories of protein and sufficient calories of the green vegetables and other vitamin and mineral bearing foods. (Don't try to live solely on white sugar or butter, pals!) You are getting good results. I know, from the many thousand letters I am receiving.

Those of you who missed our instructions on how to reduce or gain by having a knowledge of these "absurd" calories, may have those instructions if you will send a self-addressed and stamped envelope and 4 cents in stamps to me in care of this paper.

Efficient Housekeeping

TOMORROW'S MENU
Breakfast: Strawberries, Cereal, Stewed Kidneys, Coffee.
Luncheon: Brown Rice Croquettes with Tomato Catsup, Fruit Salad, Tea, Cookies.
Dinner: Veal Cutlets, Potatoes Steamed in Skins, Baked Parsnips, Lettuce.

Answered Letters
Coffee: Baked Apples.
G. E. F.—I have a brown leather-covered parlor set. Can you tell me how to clean it?"

Answer.—Leather upholstery requires a good deal of care. Once a month you should go over it with a soft cloth wet with a mixture of one part vinegar and two parts linseed oil; use only a very little at a time and polish with a piece of silk. When soiled, clean the leather with any good liquid shoe-cleaner. Or you can clean it with a mixture of equal parts of soap jelly, denatured alcohol and paraffine oil.

Reader Friend.—I wonder if all your Readers know that hot vinegar cleans paint brushes and paint on glass. For paint on cloth, apply hot vinegar, then wash in soapsuds. Here is another hint: One tablespoon of vinegar to a cupful of molasses will improve the molasses flavor—no matter how you use it."

Answer.—Thank you for these hints. It is just these little things that help us so much in our housekeeping.

Mary Louise.—"What will clean white kid shoes?"

Answer.—Sprunge gently with flannel dampened with grain (not wood) alcohol. Or sponge with a mixture of one part ether and two parts benzol.

V. H.—"I have a hat of silver cloth and silver lace which has become tarnished. What can be done to brighten it?"

Answer.—Both silver lace and gold lace is cleaned by being boiled in a solution of one cup of salt to one gallon of water, for a few minutes, dried thoroughly, then sponged with a piece of white velvet dipped in alcohol. I should think the silver cloth could be treated in the same way. It is best to baste silver lace onto a strip of linen before attempting to clean it in this way; do not remove it from the linen until dry.

A Grateful Reader.—"Would you please print some directions for crocheting a rag rug?"

Answer.—Yes, I will print directions for several different kinds next Thursday, May 24. Watch for them.

A Constant Reader.—"Would it be wise to keep fruit cake over the summer months—that is, from this spring till November? If so, how should it be kept?"

Answer.—Yes, fruit cake is better when allowed to ripen for months. After baking it, cool thoroughly, then wrap it in paraffine paper and put it in a stone crock. Keep the crock in a cool, dry place all summer.

Tomorrow—"Just How" to Make the Old-Fashioned Strawberry Shortcake.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

THOSE ABSURD CALORIES
Inasmuch as the knowledge of calories is the keystone of scientific reducing and gaining, I think we had better have a little review about them today. It is also necessary to explain calories occasionally to overcome the propaganda that seems to be directed against them every once in a while. For what reasons I am unable to understand.

A calorie is simply the standard unit of measure of heat and of the energy value of food. And the calorie will continue to be the standard unit until a better one is discovered to take its place. So far this has not happened.

Von Pirquet of Vienna, during the last few years, has used a new unit which he created, called the nem. A nem is the energy value of a gram of milk. The word nem is made from the initials of the words nutrition, element and milk. Von Pirquet's system of feeding by nems is complicated, and is based upon the metric system. As the metric system is not in popular use in the United States, and as the nem has no special advantage over the calorie as a unit, it probably will not be adopted very widely in the United States and the calorie will still continue to serve. There is no reason why it should not, because it has proved itself practical and is easily comprehended.

Recently in a certain newspaper there was an article on calories. It was written by a man who is a good journalist, but has no scientific training; his opinions on scientific subjects, therefore, are of no value. However, because it was given considerable publicity, I will review it. The article was as follows:

"The 'calory' method of reckoning food values is misleading and absurd. It means nothing, except how much heat units a food will give. It takes no account of protein or mineral elements. A small portion of refined white sugar or of butter would furnish enough calories for twenty-four hours, according to the tables. Should you attempt to live on that you would soon be dead. Forget about calories!"

Forget about calories! I can hear you chuckle.

Now it is true that calories mean nothing except how many energy units food will give. But—this means a terrible lot! We've proved it, haven't we? Had there been a universal knowledge of calories, we would not have our army of over-nourished adults and under-nourished children. And over-nourishment and under-nourishment mean serious diseases and premature deaths.

Forget about the energy value of foods? Hardly!

It is not true that calories take no account of protein. Protein can be measured in calories. How many times have I told you to forget your 250-350 calories of protein every day? The only elements of food that cannot be measured by calories are the vitamins and mineral elements, and we will get those when we select our calories properly.

It is true that were we to live on calories consisting solely of refined white sugar or butter, we would soon die. Who doesn't know that? The thing that is "absurd and misleading" and rather malicious, is not calories, but the implication that those of us who are trying to prevent suffering, disease and death by giving a scientific knowledge of calories are advocating that we should try to live on refined white sugar or butter or any other food simply because it will furnish a sufficient number of calories. We must choose our calories of food so that we will have a balanced diet, of course. And that is exactly what I am trying to show you how to do in our column from day to day.

If these anti-calorists have a

Here's a popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran—greatest health
Most every one who realizes how effective Kellogg's Bran is for the permanent relief of constipation has their own particular way of serving this wonderful cereal. Most families eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. Others sprinkle it on their favorite hot or cold cereal. Every one enjoys its nut-like flavor!
If you are cooking a hot cereal try this method—Measure off two tablespoons for each member of the family. Mix it with the cereal and cook as you always cook the cereal.
• Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared and ready to eat, but its regulatory powers are in no way impaired if you cook it with other cereals.
Kellogg's Bran has won the friendly recommendation of physicians because it does give prompt and permanent relief from mild or chronic constipation and because it can be eaten forming a habit. Again, Bran will free you from dangerous cathartics.
When constipation conditions in your system or when you are on a diet, do not take half-way foods with a partial bran cannot free you! What have is Kellogg's Bran? ALL BRAN! Go the limit!
Every member of your family will delight in eating Bran raisin muffins, pancakes, macar Recipes on every package.
Start eating Bran to-day! —keep well—keep disease off! First-class hotels, restaurants serve Kellogg's individual packages. All g

Society Women Called In Poison Pen Probe

NEW YORK, May 15.—Eighty society women, many of them among the most respected names in New York society, appeared before the grand jury yesterday before the grand jury to answer the "poison pen" letters investigation. Miss Eva Burnside, one of the witnesses, declared yesterday. Miss Burnside said she did not know George Maxwell, music composer, indicted by the grand jury as the alleged writer of a scurrilous letter to Allan A. Ryan, resting on the financier's wife.

BUYS FLAGS FOR DECORATION DAY

Chicken Raiser Adds Laying House to Plant at La Crescenta

Mrs. T. A. Bennett of the La Crescenta Pharmacy visited the wholesale houses in Los Angeles yesterday to purchase an assortment of flags for Decoration Day, also to look over a line of merchandise with a view to ordering a supply of Fourth of July stock.

A. C. Currie, former proprietor of Currie's drug store, is spending a week viewing the country in and around San Francisco, and his mother, Mrs. Ada Currie, is visiting friends in Santa Ana.

Mr. Nosh is adding an immense laying house to his chicken ranch buildings and Mr. Busch, chicken rancher of Los Angeles avenue, has added alfalfa to the stock of feed carried by him in his ranch store.

Members of the Woman's club are requested not to forget the silver tea given at Cuddle Door tomorrow, Wednesday. The hostess will be Mrs. Seymour Thomas and the hours of receiving from 3:30 to 6 o'clock.

Thursday of this week is the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher association. There will also be held on that day an exhibition of the scholars' work for the year. All parents are urged to attend.

KING TUT NEVER HAD AN ICE BOX

Splendor of Ancient Egypt Lacked Means to Save People's Food

With all the splendor and luxury with which King Tutankhamen was surrounded, he did not have half of the comforts and conveniences which even the person of moderate means enjoys today. Due to the fact that during excessively dry years crops failed, and because the old Egyptians had no means of preserving foods, a constantly threatening danger to life in the days of ancient Egypt was famine. In fact, one of the oldest letters in the world, written on papyrus about October of the year of 2004 B. C., deals with this very subject.

These letters were written by one Hekanakhet to his eldest son. It seems that the Nile during the winter had been so direfully low that the fields were parched. Famine stalked in the land. Consequently, the old farmer-priest, Hekanakhet, had gone southward in search of supplies for himself and his family. His letters were written for the purpose of sustaining the courage of his household in telling of his experiences during his quest. They are known as the "Hekanakhet Papers" and probably give the clearest and most intimate insight into life in Egypt 4000 years ago.

Contrast the conditions of King Tutankhamen's day with those of the present when the use of ice makes possible the storage and preservation of perishable foods, and when practically every household has a well-filled refrigerator which keeps foodstuffs always pure and wholesome.

Pomona College Men's Glee Club Will Give Concert At Congregational Church

"A Glee Club of Note," the Pomona College Men's Glee Club, which will present a program tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Congregational church. The club includes twenty-one college men and Ralph H. Lyman, director. In its repertoire are choral numbers, quartet, duet and solo selections by talented musicians. They give classical, semi-popular and college songs. There will be no admission charge to the concert.

CLASSICAL selections, semi-popular numbers, vocal and instrumental solos rendered by men who are well beyond the rank of amateurs, and vivacious college songs, are all included in the repertoire of the Pomona College Men's Glee club, which will present a program tomorrow night in the auditorium of the Congregational church at 8 o'clock.

In his work with the Blue and White songsters, Ralph H. Lyman, head of the Pomona College music department, has endeavored to build up a club which may be honestly called a musical organization, and which at the same time, will retain all the enthusiasm and spontaneity characteristic of twenty-two college men. There will be no admission charge for the concert tomorrow night, but a silver offering will be taken to defray expenses.

HARVEY DECLARES HE WILL RESIGN

Ambassador Arrives From England; Conference at White House, Plan

By HUBERT H. MALKUS
For International News Service
NEW YORK, May 15.—"I am an American—but not a damn fool!"

Ambassador George Harvey, returning to the United States from the court of St. James for a leave of absence, said the leave was "not permanent" and that he came to the United States "at his own request."

Told that his recall had been demanded in several quarters, and that a Massachusetts legislator had introduced a short-lived resolution demanding his forced retirement, Harvey blinked and nodded with the same polite gesture that he might have given any casual bit of news.

"I hadn't heard that," he replied.

Asked directly if he intended to resign, Harvey repeated that he was home on leave of absence.

"Mr. Lasker has invited me to return to England on the Leviathan and I hope to make the trip when the Leviathan sails July 4. That is all I know about."

Under fire of questions, Harvey maintained a most diplomatic attitude.

To the report that he had returned to America to take a place in President Harding's cabinet, he replied:

"That's important if true."

To Resign, He Says

When questioned again concerning his rumored plans to retire, Harvey answered:

"You can say that I am going to resign. All of my predecessors except one resigned. The other one died. I would prefer the first course."

Ambassador Harvey will remain in New York three or four days, he said, and then go to Washington for a conference with the president.

All questions with reference to reparations, the world court and other international affairs were parried by the ambassador on the plea that they were matters of English politics or had come up since his departure from England eight days ago.

He said he anticipated no discussions in Washington with reference to the supreme court decision prohibiting foreign vessels from bringing liquor into American ports.

Reparations were a matter of politics and he couldn't discuss them, he said.

The ambassador brought word, however, that Lloyd George might come to the United States this fall and that Lord Birkenhead, former chancellor, might also be an American visitor soon.

War Board Members Plan Organization

SACRAMENTO, May 15.—Delegates representing fifty counties were in attendance at the opening of the first convention of members of World War Selective Service boards.

Election of officers, selection of a name for the new patriotic order and adoption of the organization's constitution will occupy the first hours of the session.

Adjutant-General J. J. Borree acted as temporary chairman of the convention.

News Notes And Personal Mention About People In Southern Section Of City

FOLLOWING will be found news notes and personal mention about people in the southern section of Glendale. Southern Glendale is steadily progressing. New homes and business blocks are under way. Many people are purchasing property.

The first trip east in about twenty years was started this morning by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Reichenbach of 1514 Gardena avenue. They expect to see many changes in their old home town, Chicago. They will return in about three months.

Santa Monica fish were both Sunday by the party from this vicinity including Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weston of 4220 Perlita avenue and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Krossnoff, who arrived recently from New York city, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buttery of 235 West Harvard street. It is reported that a large number of fish were caught, but the beef stew was served yesterday noon at the Gateway lunch counter.

Big Bear was visited over the week-end by a party including Tom S. Brown of La Crescenta, Contractor Elmer Elliott of 612 West Los Feliz road, John Bentley, George Bentley and son Howard, Park Arnold and son Keith, and George Peddicord.

J. A. Malch, proprietor of the blacksmith shop at 413 West Los Feliz road, yesterday afternoon made a business trip to Los Angeles.

"We are now working on a line of summer goods," yesterday remarked E. W. Bringham, manager of the factory at 1513 South San Fernando road, operated by the Nifto Orange Products Company. Harry Walker, candymaker for this company, has been experimenting with the new bars for some time and has them almost ready for the market.

The Daughters of Veterans' convention in Modesto this week is being attended by Mrs. Robert Danner of 1637 Gardena avenue. Mrs. William M. Crawford of 806 South Central avenue and Mrs. George Peck of 129 West Los Feliz road.

Gabe W. Cox, proprietor of the South Glendale Dry Goods store at 1510 South San Fernando road, is looking forward to the baseball game next Sunday between the Glendale Merchants and Lankershim. He witnessed the game last Sunday, in which the local team won a victory over a team from Pasadena, with great interest.

George B. Karr, manager of the Baldwin Shirt Company's factory at 125 South Brand boulevard, will be among those representing the local Chamber of Commerce tonight in Tujunga at a meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando Valley. Other communities represented will be Burbank, Lankershim, Mission Acres, Owensmouth, Pacoima, San Fernando, Van Nuys, Zelzah and Reseda.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Dick of 424 West Windsor road now have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marker, who recently motored to Southern California from Parsons, Kan. Sunday both families visited Redondo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nash of 1728 South San Fernando road spent yesterday visiting relatives in Ocean Park. Mrs. Nash has been expecting her daughter, Mrs. Marion Raborn, to arrive for Mother's Day from Laramie, Wyo., but she was unable to come on account of her husband's illness.

The Community Savings & Commercial Bank at 1726 South San Fernando road now has in its display window a large photograph of an acrobat hanging by his knees from a speeding airplane. It is labeled: "Risky business, this thing of going from year to year with no money but by to tide you over sickness, unemployment and emergencies. Start a savings fund in this bank today with one dollar and you'll sleep better tonight."

Southern Glendale was well represented by week-end campers in Sand canyon. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brenkman and son Roy of 1524

South San Fernando road, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Murphy and daughters Evelyn and Dorothy of 1426 South San Fernando road. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Meech and sons Charles and Robert of 816 South Glendale avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. James Daugherty and children, Jimmy and Clarissa, of 756 South San Fernando road. Others from Southern Glendale were there, too.

Mrs. Dollie A. Barnes of 1224 South San Fernando road motored to Long Beach Sunday afternoon. She was accompanied by Mrs. Gabe W. Cox and her daughter, Mrs. Juanita Everets, of 1425 South Central avenue.

Robert Danner of 1631 Gardena avenue, proprietor of the Reliable meat market at 1503 South San Fernando road, motored to San Pedro late Sunday afternoon. He was accompanied by his two sons, Don and Golburn.

Gus Schuerze, who arrived a few months ago from Lansing, Mich., Sunday had his first dip in the Pacific ocean. The bathing was witnessed by his wife and son, Junior, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gabel and sons, Ed and Russell, all of 1412 1/2 South San Fernando road. "I used to swim in Lake Erie," remarked Mr. Schuerze, "but the ocean water seems lots different. It wasn't bad. We all had a fine time."

Long Beach was visited Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. George M. Stull of 1424 South San Fernando road. They were accompanied by their children, Wesley and Margaret.

F. M. Irby and family of 1508 South Brand boulevard Sunday afternoon motored to Whittier.

J. M. Winchester and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Winchester, all of 2953 Estara avenue, Sunday motored to Calabasas.

The S. W. Brown Beverage Company's plant at 463 West Los Feliz road has just installed a new $2,000 machine which will affix the Green Hill label on eighty bottles in a minute. It has a daily capacity of over 38,000 bottles. This is about five times as much as the machine it replaced.

Mrs. Jack Satow of 1515 1/2 South San Fernando boulevard is now driving a new Ford coupe.

Wesley Jackson accompanied his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Jackson, of 216 West Eulalia street, Sunday on a trip to Pomona. They stopped at La Habra and had supper with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jackson.

Newsboy Bill Beaten By State Senators

SACRAMENTO, May 15.—The Hawes newsboy bill changing the ages and hours of employment by boys selling papers or magazines in cities over 25,000 was defeated yesterday in the senate. The vote was ten for the bill and twenty-five against, disposing of the measure for this session.

It limited the age at which a boy can sell papers to twelve years, the present limit being ten, and changed the hours for his employment from 5 a. m. to 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The organized labor and children's welfare organizations sponsored the measure.

OLD TOBACCO

Retrieving his tobacco in excellent condition after it had been cached for 10 years is the experience of a Canadian trapper who makes the wilds of Northern Manitoba his hunting ground. In 1913 he made a cache at Copper Lake, which is 72 miles north of The Pas. In this cache he placed three pounds of tobacco in six half-pound tins. Returning to Copper Lake early in the present year he found that the cached tobacco was as good as ever, although it had been there about 10 years.

You Are a Capitalist

Did you ever stop to think of that? The word "Capitalist" refers to one who has wealth. Wealth does not always refer to money or to worldly goods. Good health is wealth and so also is sound mind. Good health and keen intellect are sometimes more valuable than gold.

If you have good health and a workable brain you are a capitalist.

A capitalist mixes good health and brains to accumulate material wealth.

TODAY—Duke N. Parry, Tokio, writes of stirring times in the Forty-Sixth Japanese Diet.

TOKIO, May 15.—Belligerents among the American law makers in Washington will, no doubt, be interested in the outward signs of belligerency which have marked the forty-sixth Diet in Tokio, and the meeting of the Chinese Parliament in Peking. An ordinary first fight has been considered far too tame for the average hot session of both the congresses of Tokio and those of Peking, and more forceful weapons than fists have several times been called into use.

Those who were in Peking in 1922, following the Chinese strife of April last year, recall the disturbances which have been in session in cabinet meetings and remember how Tung Kang, one time minister of justice and later minister of finance, was forced one day to leave the cabinet meeting hurriedly, his pursuers breaking his glasses and threatening his life. The militant feeling of some of the Chinese cabinet members and politicians last year seems to have been carried over to the parliament which has been in session in 1923, and the Japanese Diet, not to be outdone, has introduced some of the militant tactics of the Chinese law makers into the Tokio legislative body.

The weapons used in the parliament fights in Peking this year have been in the nature of small wooden name signs that mark the desks of the various members of the house of representatives and the house of peers. Now the ink pots in Peking are far more forceful.

"SIZING UP" THE TIRES

Examination Will Reveal Something as to Their Expected Life

Not only during the warm months is the average passenger car driven at least twice as far daily as in the winter season, but it usually is driven very much faster. For these reasons tires are subjected to more severe service, and troubles with them come very much closer together. In point of time, during this period of heavy driving, which calls for a careful inspection and revision of the equipment before long distance trips and vacation tours are to be made. In considering the stock of tires on hand, the mileage already delivered by each and its age form the best guides as to what future service may be expected of it. Knowing how far a certain tire has run and subtracting this distance from the average mileage obtained from similar tires on the same car gives the most dependable guess as to its "expectancy"—to borrow a term from the life insurance man. A useful check upon any such estimate is obtainable from its appearance, and an expert tire man, if he has a casing off, so that hour or more does not hold the road at all well, the rear wheels jumping about badly, even though the road is smooth. Another car of the same make, I find, holds the road well. Could an improper setting of the timing gears cause this?

Answer: If you will give us a thorough description of the knock which is troubling you, just what it sounds like, and just when it occurs, or is the worst, and everything else about it that you think will help us, we will answer to the best of our ability, but it is next to impossible to locate these knocks unless one can hear them. All we can do is to make a few suggestions. We cannot imagine how any defect in the timing of your engine can have anything to do with the car keeping the road. It is more likely that some

the top edge of one of the pistons where the upper ring fits. Will this make serious trouble?

Answer: You had better refer to your instruction book for the spark timing of this engine, but, as a general thing, with the spark lever fully retarded, the points should just be breaking when a piston reaches upper dead center. "Dead center" is the position of a piston when it is changing its direction of movement; that is, when it has gone as far in one direction as it is going. If the piece broken from this piston is small, and involves no risk of letting the ring loose, you may find that you can use it safely.

Testing Storage Battery
F. D. ask: Is there any other way to test the condition of the storage battery than to make use of the hydrometer?

Answer: There is no other practicable way, although something about the condition of a battery can be determined by testing its voltage under different conditions. However, the hydrometer is so superior to any other means of testing that it alone is employed.

W. S. G. writes: There is a slight knock or tapping noise which has developed in my engine, and no one can agree what causes it. Can you help me to find out? Another thing, my car when driven at forty miles an peculiarity of the spring suspension or the loading of the chassis makes your car act differently from other similar ones. Perhaps the other car has shock absorbers, while yours has none. This jumping of the rear wheels, we feel sure, is nothing due to the engine.

GOLD-WASHING BY WHOLESALE

Hydraulic Gold Mining On Klondike River

Along the Klondike river, in the district where herds of miners were toiling only a few years ago with pan and rocker, gold is now being sought by hydraulic operations on a huge scale. It is being washed out of the gravel cliffs by mighty hose-streams. Gravels, of course, are made up of finely divided particles of rocks. If there was gold in the rocks, there will be gold in the gravel. In places along the Klondike there are gravel deposits as much as 300 feet thick. The kind of hose used in such work is called a "giant." Throwing an eight-inch stream a distance of 250 feet, it literally tears the gravel banks to pieces. To give the stream the requisite force, the water must come from a height, and in the Klondike district it is brought for the purpose fifty miles. The principal difficulty in hydraulic mining for gold is to get rid of the gravel after the yellow metal has been separated out of it. In earlier days a great deal of this kind of mining was done along the slopes of the Sierras in California—as, for example, in the celebrated neighborhood of Dutch Flat—and the exhausted material was easily disposed of by allowing it to flow down into the valleys below. Unfortunately, it buried and destroyed farm lands in the valleys, and so a law was made requiring the construction of great "debris dams," to stop the stuff. Incidentally this led to the introduction of dredging, by which forty per cent of the gold now produced in California is obtained. The dredge is a big steam scow which literally eats its way into a stream bank, fetching the gravel aboard with an endless chain of steel buckets, and after washing the gold out of it, discharging it at the other end. In ordinary hydraulic mining the gravel is washed down through sluices in which are "rifles" to catch the coarse gold. Further along, the finer particles of the material drop through a grating into another sluice beneath, where a more gentle current of water allows the smaller particles of gold to be captured in riffles which contain mercury. The latter, possessing as it does an affinity for the yellow metal, takes it up in the form of an amalgam.

THE GLENDALE

"Souls For Sale" the new Goldwyn release directed by Rupert Hughes, from the famous author's popular novel of the same title, that ran as a Red Book serial, is a photoplay far out of the beaten track of screen productions.

It shows for the first time, honestly, the life of the Hollywood film colony, and shows it on such a gigantic scale that a fortune was consumed in manufacturing the film.

Nebraska Student Is Charged With Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Desire to see his university track team exhibit its prowess in the west nearly sent Ross B. Nixon, alias Fred Hardy, twenty, son of a prominent Omaha family, behind the bars. Under the name of Frank Hardy, young Nixon was arrested with Thomas Strachan of Los Angeles, charged with holding up Thomas Dolan a week ago. Today Congressman Willis Sears of Nebraska arrived to represent the boy and revealed his identity in court. He had "beat" his way west, the Nebraska said, to see the Nebraska track team meet Stanford here. He ran out of funds and with Strachan, police alleged, used an unloaded rusty revolver to stage the holdup.

Hotel Death Mystery Is Probed by Police

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—A new death mystery was uncovered here yesterday when a room maid in a South Olive street hotel discovered the dead body of a man believed to be Frank Boies of Fort Worth, Texas. The man apparently had died from poison and was either murdered or committed suicide. After a preliminary examination of the body at the coroner's office, it was stated he might have died of acute alcoholism. A pretty young woman, with whom the man registered as "Mr. and Mrs. Willis," could not be located by the police or occupants of the hotel. The eyes of the world are focused on a man who does the unusual.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

One day as the Fuzzy Fox was tramping through the woods he met the Woozie Wolf.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the Fox to the Wolf. "Are you going to carry off any more ragged dolls, so Uncle Wiggily can throw their dresses in your face? Ho! Ho!"

"How did you hear about that?" growled the Wolf, for it had happened that way as I told you in the story before this.

"Oh, I heard about it!" chuckled the Fox. "So you didn't nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears after all?"

"No," grumbled the Wolf, "and it doesn't seem as if I ever would. But why are you so chipper and spry this morning, Mr. Fox? Do you will come and help me have a better luck so that you can nibble rabbits' ears for lunch?"

"Perhaps," answered the Fox, mysteriously like. "I am on my way now to catch Uncle Wiggily."

"Pooh! Nonsense!" laughed the Wolf. "You'll never catch that rabbit."

"I may," said the Fox. "I am going to play a new trick on him. I have just thought of it. And if you will come and help me I'll give you an ear nibble or two."

"All right," agreed the Wolf. "I'll come. But what is the trick?"

"This," answered the Fox. "We will dig a deep hole near Uncle Wiggily's bungalow and—"

"Tut! Tut! None of that!" interrupted the Wolf. "We tried that trick once before, and we fell in the hole after Uncle Wiggily dug himself out."

"Oh, but this is different," explained the Fox. "I am not going to dig a hole for Uncle Wiggily. I'll dig a deep hole and bury myself in it, covering myself with leaves, sticks and dirt. Uncle Wiggily will not know I'm there and when he comes along I'll spring out of the hole, grab him and nibble his ears. How is that for a trick?"

"That may work," spoke the Wolf, after thinking it over. "I'll help you play it. But, mind you, I must have some ear nibbles."

"All right," agreed the Fox. "You help me dig the hole. Then I'll get in and you cover me with sticks, leaves and dirt. Then you go off in the woods and wait I'll bring Uncle Wiggily to you and we'll nibble his ears."

"Fine!" growled the Wolf, so the two bad chaps started to work. They dug a deep hole near the path that Uncle Wiggily usually hopped along as he came from his hollow stump bungalow. The Fox hid himself in the hole, the Wolf covered him with sticks, leaves and dirt, and then the Wolf sneaked away to wait in the woods.

Pretty soon Uncle Wiggily came out of his hollow stump bungalow twinkling his pink nose and feeling very happy. Up in a tree a robin sang a song of joy: "Cheer up! Cheer up! Cheer up!"

"I am cheerful," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "And why are you so jolly, Mr. Robin?"

"Because I have just been married," sang the red-breasted bird, "and I am going to make a nest where my wife may hatch out little birds. Ah, excuse me, Uncle Wiggily, I see on the ground some fine, soft hairs that will do to line my nest. I'll pick them up."

Down flew the robin from the trees and in his bill he tried to pick up some fuzzy hairs he saw on top of the ground. But, though he pulled and pulled and pulled, the hairs would not come loose.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Are the hairs caught fast? I'll help you, Mr. Robin." The bunny gentleman leaned over, took a firm hold of the hairs and pulled and pulled and pulled.

"Ouchie! Wouchie! Smouchie!" howled the Fox.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Are the hairs caught fast? I'll help you, Mr. Robin." The bunny gentleman leaned over, took a firm hold of the hairs and pulled and pulled and pulled.

"Ouchie! Wouchie! Smouchie!" howled the Fox hidden in the ground. "That's my tail! That's my tail!" And he was so surprised and ker-fummexed, if you will excuse me for saying so, that up out of the hole he popped and away he ran howling: "My tail! Oh, my tail! You nearly pulled it out by the roots!"

And that's just what the bunny and robin had done. In hiding himself in the hole, the Fox had forgotten, and left some hairs of his tail sticking out and it was these the bunny had pulled.

"Ho! Ho!" laughed Mr. Longears when the Fox was gone. "He tried to play a trick on me, but you discovered it, Mr. Robin. And I'll give you some hairs from Nurse Jane's dusting brush for your nest."

And the robin was very thankful and sang again: "Cheer up! Cheer up!"

And when the Wolf met the Fox the Wolf growled: "I told you so! Bah!"

"If the jolly robin doesn't fall up-stairs when it's trying to slide down the ironing board with the egg beater, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the skater bear."

RADIO

BY FRANK CHAPMAN

A GOOD ONE AND ONE-HALF TUBE SET

While some radio fans like to experiment with complicated radio circuits, the average fan wants to get results with the least effort and expense. This set is about as simple to make as you can get, and as cheap as any audio outfit you can get. The cost of this outfit ready to receive signals from the variable condenser, which is in series with it, covers quite a wide range of wave lengths. For broadcasting reception a 50 turn coil fills the need of the average aerial, but it is suggested that coils of thirty-five, fifty and seventy-five turns be wound. If it is desired to copy stations using longer wave lengths, such as Arlington when they send out time signals, larger coils may be wound or several coils connected in series. To get the best results a variable B battery should be used. Tubes vary a great deal in plate voltages and the one and one-half volt tubes are no exception. They will vary from sixteen to forty as detectors. The only definite way of knowing is by actual test.

The panel for this set (if you mount it) can be one six by six inches, as the condenser and socket can easily be mounted on the base in that space, while the rheostat and tube do not require additional length. The grid leak and condenser can be connected directly to the socket terminal as the shorter the lead is from this condenser the better. Binding posts for the A and B batteries should be made at the rear. Three binding posts will do for the A and B batteries and ground connection, as the negative of both batteries go to the ground.

In wiring this set up, the aerial goes to one binding post then to the plate of the tube and next to one of the telephone binding posts; the other side of the coil goes to the grid condenser and then to the variable condenser; the other side of variable condenser, and negative of both batteries go to the ground binding post; the grid condenser is fastened to the socket; a short wire runs from telephone to positive B battery; the rheostat put in series with the positive A battery and filament. The telephone binding posts can be so spaced that they will just fit a telephone condenser without soldering and this completes the set.

Hook on your aerial, light the tube and turn the condenser for desired signals.

Bootleg audions, like bootleg liquor, cannot be depended upon. If you have any pet hookups that bring in very good results, the other radio fans would like to and

TUJUNGA WINNING STREAK BROKEN BY K. C.

Glendale Team Shatters Sunland's String of Victories Sunday

Sunland took a long overdue trimming Sunday after winning eight straight games on the home grounds. It remained for the Glendale Knights of Columbus to take the wind out of their sails and they did it right merrily in the tune of 14 to 0. Slim Bradburn, the thinnest pitcher in captivity, slung for the local crew and Lefty Bacon did the Taming of the Shrew act for Glendale K. C.'s. Bacon said he played last season with Aurora and they won the muffins in the Milky Way league or something. Anyway, we believe it. Bacon flipped a mean fan and the home crew waved at him all afternoon. Slim wasn't right and that is no jest either. Slim makes 'em like it as a rule, but he didn't have a thing on the ball Sunday but his manicured knuckles and a devout prayer. His support wasn't exactly what would be called air tight. It leaked in several places, much like a porous plaster. The defense was porous and the boys got plastered, so there you have it.

Terzo and Smart contributed a couple of neat fielding plays that spoke volumes for their ability, but they remained silent at the plate. Terzo snagged two grass cutters after long runs that were labeled sure hits and Smart tore in on one that bore a striking resemblance to the one in fairyland and fell getting it, but came up with the horsehide in his paw.

The K. C.'s are no slouches in the field themselves and pulled a couple of double plays on the boys that didn't improve their dispositions a bit. In the last of the first Bush walked and Phillips fouled one off a dame's cocoa. He flew right out to H. Doll, who went back of second to get it and snapped it down to Seiser, doubling Bush.

Four in First
The Knights went right to work in the first and scored four runs. H. Doll greeted Slim Bradburn's first twister and sent it far into the pasture lands for a homer. After the ball had been retrieved by a named horsehide, Seiser and Coleman got hit by pitched balls. R. Doll forced Coleman at second and Freuhling scored. N. Doll singled, scoring Seiser and R. Doll. Bacon struck out. Four runs. Sunland did nothing.

In the second inning the Knights got one more on a single, a walk and an error. Sunland did nothing.

In the third the Knights got two more on two singles, two errors and a sacrifice. Sunland did nothing.

In the fourth and fifth the Knights did nothing and Sunland helped them. Perfect team work.

Let Chance Slip
In the sixth the Knights scored two more when Faulkner went out at first. H. Doll doubled. Coyle singled, scoring H. Doll, and Freuhling doubled, scoring Coyle. Sunland had a chance to score in their half, but some dumb skill work let it slip. Phillips dropped a Texas leaguer back of short and Stevens sacrificed him up. Waite singled and Phillips rounded third and started for home, then changed his mind and went back to third while the Knights chorled with glee at this break. Slim then fouled out and Terzo struck out. This was Sunland's best chance to score.

In the seventh the Knights got one more and in the eighth they made it unanimous with four more. Sunland repeated their other efforts with a slight dash of interrogation on 'efforts.

Stroh gesticulated on the bases and Kimpel did the guessing on balls and strikes.

Commission to Probe Chinese Bandit Raid

PEKING, May 15.—The diplomatic body, including representatives of all of the foreign powers, has decided to request the Chinese government to accept an investigating commission composed of foreign officials to make a thorough inquiry into the bandit outrage in which a large number of foreigners were kidnaped and held prisoner by Shantung bandits.

No additional word has been received from Tsao Chwang, where negotiations are under way for the release of the captives still held since announcement was made that the government had acceded to the bandits' conditions for the release of the foreigners.

The Chinese government was requested to furnish transportation facilities for members of this commission on all passenger trains and to make available for them all information regarding the bandit outrage. The commission will go to the scene of the holdup, it is believed, and perhaps to the scene of the bandit headquarters.

ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—Motion for a new trial was made in behalf of Clarence (Tuffy) Reid, convicted of the "trunk shop" murder of Charles Weingarten, yesterday, when Reid was brought before Superior Judge Reeve for sentence to die on the gallows. Pronouncement of sentence was delayed until next Monday.

EAGLE ROCK L. A. COUNCILMEN VISIT EAGLE ROCK

Attend Public Meeting and Hear Suggestions on Proposed Changes

Members of the Los Angeles City Council were guests of Eagle Rock last night, at a big meeting held in the Central school, at 8:30 o'clock.

Councilman Wheeler, who was among the speakers, stressed the importance of having those in whose hands Eagle Rock affairs will hereafter be, make the personal acquaintance of the citizens of this newest community to annex with the Southland metropolis.

The public meeting was preceded by a brief session at the city hall, at which the matters of zoning and remaining of streets were under discussion. Inasmuch as over thirty Eagle Rock streets conflict in name with those of Los Angeles, opportunity had been offered property owners and others interested to suggest changes for recommendation to the city council of Los Angeles, the time-limit being 10 o'clock yesterday morning, May 14.

Among the suggested changes are the following: Peyton to Cass, Eagle to Norwalk, Douglas to Lockhaven, Highlands to Bryn Mawr, Townsend (ask to be retained), Kenilworth to Hermosa, Ridgeway to Ridgewood, Fifield to Exira, Harlan (ask to be retained) Rosemont to Dahlia, Glen Eyrie to Iris, Rockland to Rockland, Acadia to Sylmar, Park to Park Terrace, North Victoria to Hillmont.

Zoning Plans
The present zoning of Eagle Rock will be ordered temporarily effective when annexation becomes a legal actuality, according to a statement issued by G. Gordon Whitnall, director of the Los Angeles Planning Commission. Copies of the present zone map have been completed, it is understood, and the temporary ordinance drawn.

The commission plans, immediately upon annexation, to confer with local organizations, former Eagle Rock trustees and individual property owners, and to post copies of the proposed revision of the map. An attendant will be stationed at each map, it is reported, to explain any points that may not be clear.

Following this, the commission will take legal advice as to what will be the best zoning plan to recommend to the city council. Mr. Whitnall explaining that the whole zoning problem is very much a matter of the demands of local property owners and citizens, so long as these demands are consistent with the "broad, logical and eventual" use of the territory in question.

Mr. Whitnall's treatment of the whole subject has, in the opinion of people of this community, left no doubt concerning the fairness of the Los Angeles Planning Commission.

Club and Social Notes

Tonight and tomorrow night, May 14 and 15, under the direction of Mrs. Elgie Lowry Fischer, "Clarence" will be presented by the Community Players, at the Central school auditorium, at moderate admission charges, with a cast of talented local people. The play is one of the most popular of the famous American dramatist and novelist, Booth Tarkington.

Sunday, May 13, was Mothers' Day at all the Eagle Rock churches, beautiful special services being conducted in honor of the occasion.

The brown church on the corner of Castle and Stanley avenues, the St. Barnabas Episcopal, long a landmark, is being moved to the rear of the property, to make room for the beautiful new structure that will soon replace it.

The Ladies' Guild of this church have, by their persistent and faithful efforts, largely made possible this great forward step in the local domination. As a last effort in this direction, they held a food sale last Saturday, May 12, at the Eagle Rock office of the Glendale Evening News, 113 East Colorado boulevard, which netted them $47, reports Mrs. C. A. McClintic.

Notes and Personals

Mrs. Emman has taken charge of one of the A-3 classes at the Central school, and Mrs. Reed has taken charge of the A-6 class for the balance of the term, due to the resignation of Mrs. Bristol.

The "merry-go-round," as the Flagpole waiting station has been dubbed, now wears of nights a bright electric crown, etching out in electric bulbs the signs, "Keep to the Right," "Los Angeles," "Pasadena," "Glendale," together with arrows showing the proper turn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Meyer, of the Glen Rock pharmacy, have moved to 122 North Douglas avenue, the former home of H. J. Culbertson.

Mrs. Dow and Mrs. Gregory, who have been spending some time at 228 West Park avenue, plan to return east in June.

Mrs. C. A. McLeod has sold her small house on West Park avenue.

U. S. TO PARTICIPATE

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Secretary of State Hughes has announced the American acceptance of an invitation to participate in the thirteenth international conference on navigation, to be held in London in July. Questions relative to inland and ocean navigation will be discussed.

MEMBERS SWORN IN

WASHINGTON, May 15.—E. H. Cunningham of Des Moines, Iowa, and George R. James of Memphis, Tenn., were sworn in late yesterday as members of the federal reserve board.

BURBANK BAPTISTS START WEEK'S SERVICES

Many Ministers on Program
As Church Dedication
Meetings Are Held

A fiesta of song, prayer and rejoicing opened Sunday at the new Baptist church and will continue practically all week.

Rev. W. F. Harper, D. D., of Los Angeles delivered the Sunday morning dedicatory sermon, which was preceded by a solo, "Sweet Little Mother of Mine," written and sung by Mrs. C. B. Fitzsimmons.

The dedicatory prayer was by Rev. J. E. Sanders. Music was furnished by the choir.

The Sunday night sermon was delivered by Rev. R. C. Morgan, on the topic, "After Fifty Years." At this service Mrs. L. E. Troyer also gave an address, her topic being, "Our Baptist Mission Work."

Tonight the congregation will be addressed by Rev. R. P. Pope and Rev. S. J. Skelvington, D. D., and Mrs. Fitzsimmons will sing another solo.

Wednesday night Rev. Ernest E. Ford of Glendale will deliver an address on "The Insight of Jesus." On the same evening Rev. Edwin Brown will make an address.

On Thursday night, which is "Burbank night," addresses will be delivered by Mayor J. C. Crawford, Professors L. F. Collins and E. Stillwell Moore, and Revs. Bieker, Parker, Allen and Stevenson.

Rev. F. N. Baker and Rev. W. Revie will deliver the addresses on Friday night.

The pastor of the Burbank Baptist church, Rev. Ernest A. Main, who makes these announcements, states that all-night services will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Frank Whitney is in charge of the music and will be assisted by a strong choir.

The dedication of our new church marks the culmination of a sincere hope for the development of this city," states Rev. Main, "and that the congregation should have accomplished so much in the brief period of a year is something for special commendation."

P. T. A. Meeting
The Joaquin Miller Parent-Teacher Association held an interesting meeting at the school last Thursday afternoon, May 10, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program, which comprised a recitation by Mary Frances Hamner; a song, "Old-Fashioned Dear," by Mrs. Jones; a violin solo by Mrs. Lovelady, and a selection by Myrtle Newhall, supervised by Alice Gratrix.

Superintendent Collins made an address and the first grade pupils of Mrs. Christenson presented an exercise.

A joint meeting of the Missionary society and the Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church was held Thursday afternoon, May 10, at the home of Mrs. Ray Spence, 15 Angelino avenue. The subject was Studies On the Negro Americans.

The district president, Mrs. Roberts, from Pasadena, was present and gave an address. Mrs. R. T. Brown and Mrs. J. F. Dodge were also on the program.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The windows of the Photo shop and the Hamner real estate office contain an exhibition of the pupils of the art department of the high school, Eva D. Streuber, instructor.

The exhibit includes poster designs, emblems, stenciling, pastel, parchment, fireless enamel, bronze work, perspective drawings, letter monograms, rubber stamps, batik, oil polychrome clay molding and furniture decoration.

The pupils exhibiting are Margaret Yale, Mrs. Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Fitch, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Conway, of the night class, and Pauline Allen, Thelma Gibbs, Ellen Hursh, Doris Hench, Monzella Roach, Margaret Kunkle, Alleen Daniels, Charles Pershing, Janet Pruett, Olive Gibbs, Mary Gibbs, Dean Whitley and William Clemow, of the day class.

Picture Display

Mrs. Alice G. Hornby has a number of her oil paintings on exhibit at the Pacific Home for the Aged. Included in the collection are many pieces of her work that have been sold but kindly loaned to the exhibit.

The paintings include landscapes, mountain and ocean views, flowers, fruit and trees. One painting is of the San Gabriel mission, painted before some of the old landmarks had been eliminated. There are paintings of the beach at Long Beach, as it was twenty-five years ago, as well as lovely canvases of the old-time Burbank, when Tenth street was only a flowery meadow.

The paintings, though a quarter of a century old, are as fresh and colorful as though they had been painted yesterday.

WILL NOT RECOGNIZE

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The United States has been informally advised that the British government will not recognize the so-called Chester concession in Turkey insofar as it applies to Mesopotamia, which includes the rich Mosul oil fields, it was learned at the state department late yesterday.

OCCUPIED BY FRENCH

ESSEN, May 15.—French troops have occupied two large coal plants in the Ruhr owned by Hugo Stinnes. The German workers were forbidden to enter.

Trace Movements of Wall St. Bomb Suspect

NEW YORK, May 15.—With Noah Lerner, latest suspect in the Wall street explosion of 1920, which killed thirty-nine persons, held in the Tombs without bail, detectives today were seeking a hotel register which they held might throw some light on the young radical's movements at the time of the explosion. Lerner, who was sent to R with "Big Bill" Haywood, according to the police, went to the hotel in question late the night before the explosion. Probably a dozen other calls went to the same hotel, night, police say, and they trying to learn whether the group held a meeting and the subsequent movements
